

PETER H. NOONE

Peter H. Noone is an attorney from Belmont, Massachusetts, with more than 12 years experience representing employees in federal personnel matters. Mr. Noone provides specialized training to Agency investigative personnel from the defense perspective that addresses common mistakes an employee's representative seeks to find in reviewing their investigations. He has been a guest instructor at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, the Inspector General Criminal Investigator Academy, and the Immigration and Customs Enforcement Office of Professional Responsibility. He has also developed and provided training seminars to the American Federation of Government Employees Law Enforcement Steering Committee.

Mr. Noone has been a partner with the law firm Avery, Dooley, Post & Avery since 1998, where he leads a federal personnel law practice group. He specializes in federal personnel matters and has represented federal employees and law enforcement officers from virtually every federal agency in administrative and criminal investigations, Merit System Promotion Board appeals, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission hearings, and trials in U.S. District Court. Mr. Noone has assisted his clients in successfully defending disciplinary actions, ranging from letters of reprimand, security clearance revocations, and adverse suitability determinations to removal.

Mr. Noone serves as general legal counsel for the Massachusetts Association of Women in Law Enforcement, The Irish American Police Officers Association, the Massachusetts Communication Officers Association, and the New England Crisis Negotiators Association. He is admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court, the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States District Court for Massachusetts. Mr. Noone is a graduate of Princeton University (B.A., 1992) and Suffolk University Law School (J.D., Cum Laude, 1995).
